Development of Diverse Talent

Deetken impact has recently developed a mentorship program and currently supports ad hoc external training with financial resources. Also, it's working towards defining a development career path for its employees, which includes mentorship and more directed training.

Primary Stakeholders

We invest in companies, which are tackling the most pressing social and environmental issues through their core business operations. The Fund is sector agnostic, therefore, we invest in any sector which is able to generate social or environmental impact. When referring to social impact, we look for companies, which are providing the underserved population with a product or service that otherwise wouldn't be able to access. When referring to environmental impact the main stakeholder is the planet regardless of who is actually triggering the impact.
